What: Sofa	Color: white	How long: 3m	How much: $170
From: China
Customer Reviews(客户评论):
Anna: I think it's a 5-star sofa. The color is beautiful and it looks great in my living room. It is easy for me to put it up(组装). What's more, the price is nice too. After work, I always sit on the sofa to read books or sleep to have a rest. All in all, I'm happy to have it.
Jane: I bought it on Dec.12th but it got to my home on Dec.28th. It's a long time. I'm not happy about it. The sofa is too big in my living room. It's my first time to go shopping online. I don't like it at all.
Alan: Great color and great price! I love it. It is soft to sit on. My son likes to play with his toys on the sofa every day. My mother likes sitting on it to watch TV while my father likes reading newspapers on it. White is my favorite color but it is really difficult to keep it tidy.
John: The sofa I bought online was good, but the delivery(快递) was terrible. It took half a month to arrive. The delivery service was unhelpful. I had to call them many times. Every spring, millions of fish migrate(洄游) along the river in the city to find better places to lay eggs. But in the river, there are many locks(水闸). They stop fish from swimming through. ① In most places in the world today, it is easy to find healthy food. With supermarkets, buying healthy food like fresh fruits, vegetables, fish, and meat is easy and convenient(便利的). However, it is also easy to find unhealthy food today. Supermarkets and other stores sell good food, but they also sell frozen foods and junk food like chips, candy, and cookies. A lot of food today has chemicals(化学药品). Research has shown that many of these chemicals are bad for our health. So did people in the past eat healthier than we do today?

② A century ago, people didn't eat junk food or frozen food. Instead, they ate natural foods without chemicals. On the other hand, their natural foods were not always as good as food today. In the past, meat often came from sick animals. It's not healthy to eat meat from a sick animal. In most places today, laws make sure that food is safe.

③ In most countries today, we can buy a variety(各种) of foods. We can buy oranges in the winter and apples in the summer. Healthy fruits and vegetables are available(可获得的) at any time of year. These foods come from all over the world. In the past, this kind of variety was not possible. People could eat certain foods only in certain seasons.

④ We also eat much more meat, sugar, fattening foods, and chemicals today than people did a century ago. Studies show that these things can cause(引起) heart disease(疾病) and a variety of other health problems. However, people live much longer now. Today, the average(平均) person lives for 70 to 80 years. However, 100 years ago, the average person lived for only about 50 years. People live longer because we have better medicine now. But people also have longer lives because healthy food is usually available.

⑤ So ___? Yes and no. People in the past did eat more natural food than we do now. But, in some ways, we also eat better today. We can eat healthier today than people did in the past. We just have to choose to eat good foods.

- C. Supermarkets and stores.
- D. Frozen foods.

- B. Because people need foods at any time of year.
- C. Because transportation(交通运输) is more convenient now.
- D. Because it's easier to plant fruits and vegetables.

29. Which of the following can be put in ___ in Paragraph 5?

- A. did people eat more natural food in the past
- B. did people eat healthier in the past
