C

Mia is going to junior high school next week, but she is worried about her new school life. Can she make friends easily? Are the teachers kind? Just at that time, she remembers the paper boat from her parents. She opens it and finds some words.

To: Mia

From: Dad and Mom

Subject: Before your journey starts

Dear Mia,

Time flies! You are now in junior high! Are you ready for your new life?

Primary school was like a pool. It was small and safe. Dad and Mum protected(保护) your boat from winds. But junior high is like a river. It is wide(宽的) and the water moves fast. You will face new problems. We are still here to help. But sometimes you have to sail your boat by yourself. Just try your best and work hard. Remember this: No pain, no gain. You will go through(经历) heavy rain towards the sea.

We made this letter into a paper boat. We hope it helps you in the coming years!

With love,

Dad and Mum

43. What does the underlined word “it” refer to(指代)?

- A. The new school.
- B. The big building.
- C. The paper boat.
- D. The wide river.

44. Which situation(情况) best shows “No pain, no gain”?

- A. Jack doesn't prepare for the math test but still gets good grades.
- B. Sarah plays the piano every day and becomes really good at it.
- C. Luke doesn't want to play soccer because he thinks it's difficult.
- D. Emma watches TV all the weekend and doesn't finish her work.

45. Why do Mia's parents make this paper boat?

- A. Because they like making paper boats.
- B. Because they face a wide river.
- C. Because they want to travel by boat.
- D. Because they hope to help their kid.

46. How may Mia feel after reading the words on the paper?

- A. Happy.
- B. Sorry.
- C. Worried.
- D. Sad.
